

Königswarter & Ebell
Chemische Fabrik GmbH

Pure Battery Technologies is a fast-growing company in the EV industry. We are based in Brisbane (Australia), supported by the EIB (European Investment Bank), under German management, and specialize in the environmentally friendly and sustainable refining and recycling of valuable battery materials such as nickel and cobalt. For our planned factory extension at the Hagen site in Germany, our subsidiary Königswarter and Ebell is looking for Ambitious

- Process Engineer / Production Engineer (m/f/d)

Who supports us in the implementation of our growth plans as a key part of the project team and who will transition into our operation team

Your perspectives:

- We offer you a secure position in a growing company that is investing heavily in the e-mobility industry.
- You will participate in the development of our company in Europe and shape its future.
- In this position you will work independently in a dynamic environment as part of a global team.
- In addition, we offer you an attractive compensation package.
- Diverse development opportunities available in an international company operating in a dynamic growing market.

With the growth plans of Pure Battery Technologies, an extensive plant expansion is planned at our factory in Hagen. Your new field of activity:

- Working in close cooperation with external consultants, suppliers and internally with the local operational team, the global technical team to finalize the detailed design of the expansion project.
- Plant planning, including installation supervision and commissioning as part of the project team.
- Develop or contribute to pilot testing plans and coordinate field trials working closely with the operations team and suppliers.
- After completion of the project execution phase, takeover of the production plant as Production Engineer, undertake plant optimization and implements system to continuously improve operations.
- Support of further projects at other sites (Germany, Europe, worldwide).

You will best fit with us if you have the following qualifications/experiences:

- Educated as an engineer in the field of process and chemical engineering.
- At least 10 years of experience within the field of chemical/process engineering environment, ideally with operational or project experience.
- Experience in metallurgical accounting and reporting of good practices, process monitoring and control in a continuous plant is preferred.
- Experience in dealing with external engineering consultants, experts and/or construction contractors is beneficial.
- Understanding of German chemical plant standards and permitting is beneficial.
- English / German language skills, both written and spoken.
- You are team-oriented and have a "hands-on" mentality.
- You are reliable and have good communication skills.
- Your approach to work is proactive, systematic, results-oriented and flexible with strong focus on finding solutions to any problems.
- Always safe and put people first

Are you interested?

Then please send your application to info-kue@purebatterytech.com, stating the earliest possible starting date and your salary expectations as well as your curriculum vitae and references.

Königswarter & Ebell GmbH Im Ennepetal 19-21
58135 Hagen

Please note that we cannot return applications sent by post.

www.purebatterytech.com